

Inspire your pupils with a SUBSIDISED show on Health Care Science Careers!

There are probably pupils at your school that want to be doctors or nurses. Some will get the grades, some won't. But, more importantly there will be some of your pupils who have not even considered a career in the NHS because they don't know what is out there, or they think they are not clever enough.

THIS SHOW PUTS ALL THAT RIGHT!

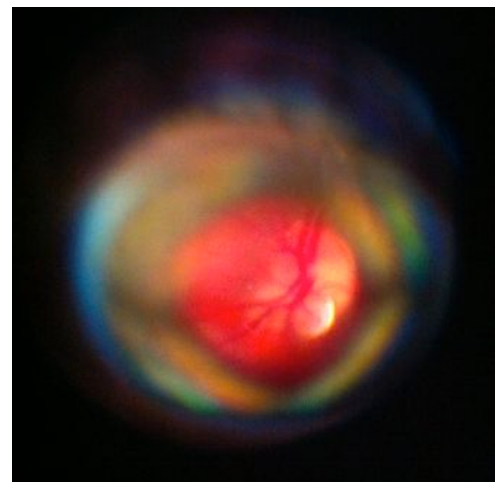

Classroom Medics have teamed up with the NHS and NHS Careers to bring you a dedicated schools show that explores the amazing world of Health Care Science!

Using LIVE DEMOS and footage of Tom Warrender's journey around UK hospitals having medical tests for the fun of it, your pupils will discover the wide range of careers in Physiology, Life Sciences, Medical Engineering and Medical Physics.

LIVE DEMOS include taking a picture of a pupil's retina with an iPhone (picture on the right is an example), recording blood flow speed with an ultrasound device as well as recording ECGs and finding the blood type of a teacher!

The show also includes footage of interviews with the Health Care Scientists as well as up to date information on career paths into these careers, helping you and school provide impartial and informed careers advice to your pupils.

Show Logistics & What's on Offer

Classroom Medics can visit for a day and deliver 2 shows to as many pupils as you wish (or how many you can fit into your hall!). Usually one AM and one PM.

All we need is a hall, lecture theatre or open space. We bring everything along with us and all you need to do is provide us with the pupils.

The show is flexible and can last for 50-70 minutes, allowing us to fit into your timetable. We don't mind which year groups we see, but it is most suited for year 9 and up.

Costs

We have LIMITED funding from the NHS to subsidise the show and inspire as many of your pupils as possible. There is also the opportunity for some of your pupils to take part in hands on workshops where they get to use some of the kit from the show!
