

For fuller details including session synopses, please go to our live digital timetable <https://aseannualconference2022shu.sched.com/>

For the most up to date and live Annual Conference 2022 information, please click on the Sched link above. To view the sessions suitable for Post-16, under Filter By type, hover over and select Post-16. You can then click on each of the sessions to view the synopsis, and also to view presenters' details, or view any files or attachments relating to each session, which speakers sometimes upload after they have presented.

8:30am	T Levels – If you can see, it you can be it! Cerian Ayres
9:30am	BYOD mobile phone sensor datalogging over the internet Dan Roberts	Progression in maths in science through the key stages (post-16) Catherine Witter	Introducing Health & Science T levels: learning through teacher networks Jenifer Burden & Dominic Martinez
11:00am	Preparing learners for the world of work and the work of the world Cerian Ayres & Charlotte Bonner	Quantum key distribution: uncrackable cryptography Alan Denton	Spectroscopy in a suitcase Dr Peter Hoare
1:00pm	Post-16 Keynote: T levels – bringing the world of work to life Cerian Ayres
2:00pm	Perimeter Institute: Fields are real Alan Denton & Miles Hudson	Practical work to reinforce theory and the basic concepts being taught using Opensource Tracker software Catherine Dunn	BERG: The importance of embedding plants throughout the A level biology curriculum Dr Chris Graham

3:30pm	Evolution: a 360 degree perspective Dr Neil Ingram & Mrs Jane Still	Teaching practical evaluation skills Joanna Pellereau	Linking the workplace to lab work in T level science Alison Ackroyd
4:45pm	Learning resources for lipids and related biomolecules Dr Peter Hoare & Dr Matthew Conroy	Quantum imaging – single photon imaging systems Alan Denton	Science based extended project qualifications (EPQs) Jane Bryant and Jennifer Obaditch

If you'd like to join our dedicated Post-16 day, please book a ticket on Eventbrite. The ASE Annual Conference webpage is also full of additional information including social activities and exhibitors – please browse what we are delighted to be offering for 2022! Prices start from £123 for a single day for ASE Members, whilst the Early Bird Offer remains open (until the end of October). And don't forget to view the Street Food and Swing Band social for Thursday evening

For queries, email conferences@ase.org.uk