Hello to... Fergus Hegarty CSciTeach – Field Officer, North of England

Fergus has taught science in schools for 25 years and held senior leadership positions across the north of England. As an advanced skills teacher, he worked alongside the Gatsby

Foundation and SSAT to share teaching and learning best practice with teachers from all phases in the UK, Middle East and Australia. Having developed ITT courses for training science teachers, he is currently lecturing in science and maths education at the University of Sunderland. Welcome to the team, Fergus!
